

English for Speakers of Other Languages (E.S.O.L.)

IMPORTANT NOTE – This guide is only intended to be accurate for Asylum Seekers and Refugees (not for people with other status such as EU Citizens, Migrant Workers, Students, other visa-holders, etc.).

Rules change – Check with the college or charity to see what they can offer you.

Your age matters!

Under-16s are entitled to full-time education in schools.

Under-18s are entitled to full-time education or training (including E.S.O.L.) in a wider range of institutions, including Wolverhampton College. Ask about financial support, which may help with meals, books or transport.

Are you 18? –

If you have refugee status (or ‘HP’ or ‘DL’ status), then you are entitled to the same full-time education or training as under-18s. Ask about financial support, which may help with meals, books or transport.

If you are still an asylum-seeker, then at 18 you may not be entitled – Check with the college. If not, you might get the same as ‘19 or older’.

19 or older? –

Asylum Seekers who have been waiting more than six months for a decision on their asylum application can enrol on an E.S.O.L. course (at, for instance, Wolverhampton College, or Wolverhampton Adult Education Service) but may have to contribute towards the cost – Ask the college. Also ask about financial support, which may help with meals, books or transport.

Under six months? – Sorry, you’ll have to pay, or see what you can get free from local charities.

Those who have been given Refugee Status can access courses much the same as British Citizens – You need to meet the entry requirements for the course and be able to pay the course fee if there is one. Some courses are free. Others are free if you are receiving certain benefits or allowances, or if the course will help you to get a job – Ask the college. Also ask about financial support, which may help with meals, books or transport.

24 or older? –

Similar to ‘19 or older’, but there are fewer reductions of course fees. Loans may be available for higher-level courses.
